

MEDIA RELEASE

Last Chance to Curate Worldwide Exhibition

The Australian War Memorial will join other institutions, including the New York Public Library and the Brooklyn Museum, for the worldwide exhibition Common Ground.

Voting for Common Ground closes on 16 September, so now is the last chance to vote for photographs, including those shared on Flickr by the Australian War Memorial.

Voting is open to everyone with a Flickr account, for all images from Commons on Flickr. The most 'favourited' images, as voted by the public, will be simultaneously projected around the world by participating institutions on the weekend of 2 and 3 October.

The Australian War Memorial is pleased to be participating, with the projection screening in the Orientation Gallery on 2 and 3 October.

Vote now for the Australian War Memorial at <http://commonground.eastmanhouse.org/>

Further information:

www.awm.gov.au

<http://www.flickr.com/groups/flickrcommons>

Leigh Harris (02) 6243 4575 0409 600 038

Emma Campbell (02) 6263 6627

media@awm.gov.au

media@awm.gov.au

9 September 2009